Empowering Excellence: Building an In-House Tool for Academic Program Assessment

Tariq Aziz Office of Institutional Research University of Houston

Texas Association of Institutional Research Corpus Christi, Texas February 27, 2025

Background

- University of Houston
 - Founded in 1927
 - Flagship of the University of Houston System
 - Public, Tier One research university
 - Top 75 Public Universities: Forbes
 - 285 undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs
 - Fall 2024 enrollment: 47,980

Why We Need a New Tool?

- The Office of Institutional Effectiveness (IE) explored purchasing a tool to support program assessment.
- UH Decided to build an in-house tool due to budget constraints and high costs.
- IE peers provided some direction on key functionalities, including:
 - Automating the current manual Assessment reporting process.
 - Data should be easily accessible instead of lengthy reports.
 - Improved efficiency by generating reports that focus on key metrics only.

What is APAR?

- APAR Academic Program Assessment Report
- Describes student learning outcomes and assessment activities for each degree program.
- Elements
 - List of assessment items for student performance
 - Assessment Results and Analysis
 - Program improvement plans and historical data
- Method
 - Performance data is collected, analyzed, and reported annually
 - Assessment items track program outcomes and student performance

Assessment Report Checklist

- Manually created each year for every degree plan.
- Series of Word files created, turned into PDFs.
- Takes hours to complete.
