Speakers

Description

The Texas Geometry and Topology Conference is dedicated to the enhancement of both the educational and the research atmosphere of the community of geometers and topologists in Texas and surrounding states. The conference is supported by the NSF and The University of Houston.

We will be able to offer some support for expenses. Graduate students, junior faculty, women, minorities, and persons with disabilities are especially encouraged to participate and to apply for support. There are no registration fees and everyone is welcome to attend.

Registration is required, whether or not the participant is requesting support. Please register as early as possible if you would like to apply for support, or to request a hotel reservation.
